

ISSUE 424

DATE : 27/01/2017

Gong Xi Fa Cai.

Refine Our Attitude in the new year.

Dear Penfabricans,

Like it or not. We are all human. As such, we have our own likes and dislikes. Often, we have biases in our opinion about other people, sometimes on how certain matters should be executed. These prejudices are inherent in our thinking, thus shaping our attitude and behaviour. We are not even aware of such unbalanced inclination.

It takes another person to tell us and make us aware of our injustice towards others. Such a person is like our mirror. If we find that our attitude towards someone is negative, it will surely influence how we communicate with him. Our behaviour will also give away our frame of mind towards this person. As such, we cannot expect good results to come from such an encounter. At the same time, this poor attitude will most likely reflect on us. Is this the way that we carry out our conversation or meeting? Therefore, before each encounter with others, let us check our attitude the way we check our grooming and appearance. We have to realize that our attitude influence our perceptions and beliefs of the other person, be it rightly or wrongly.

Let us check if our perceptions and beliefs reflect reality of the circumstances. Better still, why don't we change our attitude? Make it positive. By predisposition of being positive, we invite the other party to be receptive whereby increasing our chances of a positive response and experience.

Dear Penfabricans, before each encounter, let us remind ourselves to have positive mindset and check if we have any negativity. Rectify it to be ready to meet others. Be positive. Check our mindset as we would check our physical appearance.

Have an enjoyable Chinese new year holiday making sure that we always have positive attitudes towards other people and the issues at hand. Using this new year occasion to resolve to adopt positive attitude from now to become a better person.

To all Penfabricans who celebrate Chinese Rooster New Year.

May you and your family have a healthy, happy & prosperous Rooster new year.

To all Penfabricans, enjoy your holidays.
Stay safe by careful and attentive driving on the road.

Thank you.

With kind regards,

HSTeh.